Are you looking for a tailor-made training course?

The ENSM, the French Maritime Academy, is available to review any tailor-made training solution suitable for your business challenges. The program can be adapted to suit your situation and modified according to your expectations. We will review together the skills to be achieved in order to define a refined program. The speakers and professors are chosen amongst ENSM professors and other professional experts. The ENSM will provide you with modern teaching materials in line with the objectives and, if necessary, will carry out the process for recognition with the certifying bodies, whether national or international.

A dedicated team

CEMAFOR is the ENSM service dedicated to continuing education. Based in Saint-Malo, it is managed by Katell Lemonnier under the responsibility of Yann Vachias, director of the ENSM campus in Saint-Malo.

Looking for on-demand training courses?

If the training you are interested in is part of this schedule, but the proposed dates are not suitable due to your employees availability, contact our department. With its four ENSM campus and its expertise on site, we can answer your needs.

Looking for an in-house and/or abroad training course?

An in-house training can be delivered on your premises or in an approved dedicated room. The ENSM can meet your expectations even outside of metropolitan France, so do not hesitate to ask.

Advantages with this formula: no date set in advance, no calendar or schedule. You save on your employees travelling costs.

Do you have any questions about accessible training for people with disabilities/reduced mobility?

For any request on the conditions of accessibility to one of our training courses, contact CEMAFOR at:
cemafor@supmaritime.fr

Are you an individual and would like to know how to fund your training course?

Continuing vocational training is financed mainly by the State, regions, fund-raising organisations and companies. Several funding options are available to cover your training costs, such as the personal training account (CPF), the individual training leave (CIF), the professional security contract (CSP), the retraining check or the training pass etc...

CEMAFOR is here to help you fill your funding application and answer all your questions by email: cemafor@supmaritime.fr
